

Mall won't u-tuyn on controversial parking charge
Posted by Ernhw Ltd - 26 Jul 2017 14:59

=====

Re: Mall won't u-tuyn on controversial parking charge
Posted by DJ2 - 12 Aug 2017 08:33

Helen wrote:

If I park my car in your driveway as you have a sign saying park for two hours, 10 pence. I park and then leave without paying, cause the bucket had a lid on it, or it was raining. Have I not abused your good will and prevented you from getting 10 pence from another car driver?

Should you not get compo and also stop others abusing your good will?

Sorry Helen but you're not comparing apples with apples. My driveway is not a car park open to the public to enable them to shop nor does it have any signage offering a parking facility.

=====

Re: Mall won't u-tuyn on controversial parking charge
Posted by Tom - 12 Aug 2017 11:00

=====