Update

Dear Tom

I am writing to confirm your petition will be considered by the Public Petitions Committee at its virtual meeting on Thursday, 17 September 2020.

You may wish to watch the meeting online at Parliament TV.

If we have recently invited you to provide a written submission and you haven't yet done so (but would like to), we would be grateful if you could get that to us by close of play on Tuesday, 8 September. If you have already provided us with a written submission, there is no need to respond further.

The agenda for the meeting will be available on the Committee's website on Monday, 14 September. The agenda will show all the business for this meeting and the order the Committee will consider the petitions in.

Following the meeting we will write to you to notify you of the outcome of the Committee's consideration and your petition webpage will be updated.

Please contact me, or a member of the Public Petitions team, should you require any further information.

Kind regards
